Market here remained steady with a moderate demand. Makers at home are getting firmer and near shipments cannot be booked even at higher prices. Very little business has been done during the week for Grey Dhooties for May-July shipments. Prices for G. P. WHITE GOODS.

Market for Nainsooks remains steady with a moderate demand. Makers for April-May shipments now demand two pence higher than the price last paid for and in some cases they give May-June shipments which dealers here are afraid to take up. In shirtings of superior qualities very little business is passing; but in lower qualities on account of some scarcity in this market a nominal business has been reported. Liepmanns remain steady at 12-11.

"TIMES OF INDIA" DIRECTORY, 1911.

We have received a copy of the "Times of India" Directory, for 1911, which as in former years is replete with information not only confined to Bombay, but to India generally. The Bombay residents are classified according to their communities, and there are to be found also classified lists of the trades of the city. At the end of this useful book of reference are given tables for the conversion of Indian to English money and of Indian weights and measures and other useful information of like description.

THE SKATING RINK.

More sports are announced to take place on Tuesday next, the 24th inst. There is a most attractive programme of quite sensational events. We have been asked to remind intending competitors that they should register their names early for the respective events. The next Fancy Dress Carnival is advertised for February 7th.

EXCELSIOR CINEMATOGRAPH.

THE Royal Marionettes, fresh from their successes in Australia and Calcutta, are announced as the star attraction in a mixed programme this week. Mr. Walter E. Deave's troupe is undoubtedly the finest of its kind touring the world to-day and they include in their repertoire almost every act it is possible to produce. They have a complete stage with orchestra of "wooden" musicians with boxes on either side. The show includes a startling bar performer, a serio-comic dancer, coon singers, a clown and performing donkey etc. The ballet is beautifully presented with original electrical effects, special scenery and gorgeous dresses. There is no show so popular with children—and indeed grown-ups enjoy it thoroughly too—as a Marionette Show. There is in addition a programme of really excellent pictures one of which "A Life for a Life" is likely to eclipse anything ever shown in Bombay. It is a pourtrayal of life in its truest sense and will be found far in advance of the ordinary pictures of to-day. The Marionettes will appear at each show, which will consist of half an hour with the Marionettes and half an hour with the Pictures. There should be packed houses this week.

The British Board of Edution has received a notice of an international competition in Latin poetry to be held in Rome in 1911.

INDIAN PERMANENT WAY CONVENTION.

Training for Apprentices.

ON Friday, the delegates of the Permanent Way Inspectors' Institution in India met at the B. B. and C. I. Railway Offices, where a technical discussion was held, Mr. Wolff, Chief Engineer to the B. B. and C. I. Railway, presiding.

The Chairman said that the Secretary, Mr. Stuart Moncrieff, had addressed the Agent of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, with regard to the proposal to have the next meeting at Calcutta. The reply thereto was also read, enquiring what assistance would be required from the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, and a resolution was adopted authorising the Secretary to address the Agent with the request to extend to the Institution the same help which the B. B. and C. I. and G. I. P. Railways had accorded to make the meeting a success. The date of the Calcutta Session will depend on the Coronation Durbar fixture.

Then followed a discussion on sleepers and fishplates in which was mentioned the concrete sleeper, a recent experiment satisfactorily made by the reader of a paper thereon, namely, Mr. Allen, of Ahmedabad.

The necessary qualifications of apprentices were next discussed at length, and in bringing the question forward, the Secretary said that it was the intention to try and raise the status and efficiency of the members. Their institution simply existed for the purpose of trying to get a class of better trained men for the railways in India. Unless a man had some kind of education, both intellectually and morally, they could not expect to have the work done efficiently and satisfactorily. They wanted a higher standard of education introduced. They should have some grounding in mensuration and trigonometry. He recommended the attendance of apprentices at their meetings, and the giving of assistance by railway companies for technical and practical training by a competent teacher at large railway centres. He also recommended the contribution of papers to the "Journal" more frequently than was at present the case.

The Chairman instanced the practice adopted in English schools to emphasize the importance of apprentices getting an exprimental and theoretical training.

A resolution was then unanimously adopted on the motion of the Secretary, seconded by Mr. Dalal, that the President of the Conference should address the Railway Board and Agents of different Railways soliciting that this matter be considered with a view to improving the training, education and status of men in the Engineering Department of all Railways for the benefit of Railways themselves, and that a copy of the proceedings be forwarded to the Hon'ble Mr. Mudholkar who had taken such great interest in technical education.

The conclusion of the Conference was marked by a very cordial vote of thanks being passed to Mr. Wolff, the Chairman, for presiding at this year's deliberations.

WEDDING IN BOMBAY.

PERHAPS by reason of being, nowadays, "The Gate of India," or, perhaps, in consequence of being Cathedral City, Bombay, is the scene of many weddings. But, without wishing to draw any invidious distinctions, it must be admitted that the wedding, which was solemnized within St.Thomas' Cathedral, on Thursday forenoon, was one of the prettiest witnessed for quite a long time. The occasion was the joining in matrimony of Mr. E. J. Butler with Miss Gladys Pell, the daughter of Mr. Alfred Pell, J. P., F. C. S., old and much-esteemed member of the commercial community in the capital of the Western Presidency. The bridegroom, is an officer, of the Educational Department in South Africa.

The service at the Cathedral, which was fully choral, was largely attended by the friends of the bride's parents and a few of the bridegroom's friends he had made when visiting India in the early part of last year. The Church aisle was laid with the conventional crimson carpet while the chancel and altar were beautifully decorated. Mr. Edgar Faulkner, was responsible for the musical part of the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a soft wavy satin gown "en Princesse," with a long Court train coming from the left shoulder, on the corner of which was a true-lover's knot in chiffon and a spray of orange blossoms. The "corsage" was beautifully arrange in a trellis-work of satin, pearls, orange blossoms and white feather, the front of the skirt having a three inch panel of pearls weighted with tassels of the last mentioned gems. Her Marie Stuart capette of pearls and orange blossoms was particularly becoming with bunches of orange blossoms and white heather, while over all fell a long real Limerick lace veil, kindly lent by a friend of the bride's family. Two tiny maidens in white crepe de chine frocks and mob caps carrying shower bouquets walked on either side of the bride's train and the trio of bridesmaides were in charming dresses of turquoise blue crepe de chine from a Romney picture. They wore large silk crinoline hats trimmed with pale pink cherry blossoms and carried crooks which were tied with long pale pink ribbons surmounted by bunches of white chrysanthemums. The three bridesmaids were Miss Renius, Miss Mabel Knight and Miss Eva Knight, the two little train bearers being the Misses Bertha and Frances Knowles. The dress of the bride's step-mother was of silver grey "crepe de chine" most exquisitely-embroidered, her hat being a large satin one trimmed with salmon pink wings. At the conclusion of the service which was conducted by the Rev. Canon Barham, the principal members of the bridal party adjourned to the Vestry, where the important duty of signing the register was duly performed. This accomplished, an adjournment was made to the bungalow of the bride's parents at Cumballa Hill, where a reception was held. Mr. Pell proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom in an apt speech to which the bridegroom responded. The latter afterwards gave the toast of the bridemaids, on behalf of whom Mr. R. D. Hughes, the best man, replied.

The presents were most numerous, many of them being of a valuable character.

In the afternoon the happy couple left for Khandalla, but their stay there will be an unusually short one as they have to leave Bombay for South Africa on Sunday. The bride looked very charming in her going-away frock which was of Saxe blue ninon and satin with which she wore a long tussore travelling cloak, trimmed with Saxe blue, and a large Tuscan hat in which the central figures were two elegant white ostrich feathers.

The cake was supplied by the Messrs. Mongini Bros., who also were responsible for the refreshments served on the occasion.

The Cape Colony branch of the League of the Empire have presented a cheque for £100 and a brass tablet to the New Somerset Hospital, Cape Town. The amount was subscribed by children members for the establishment of a children's memorial cot in the "Lady Loch" ward.

HIRAM CARPENTER'S WONDERFUL CURE OF SKIN DISEASE

"I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s. psoriasis, and others leprosy, commencing on my scalp; and in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skilful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there would be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs. I reached Detroit and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One Dr. —— treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs; feet badly swollen; toe-nails came off; finger-nails dead and hard as a bone; hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. O my God! how I did suffer.

"My sister wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got Cuticura Resolvent, Ointment and Soap. I commenced by taking Cuticura Resolvent three times a day after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. Result: returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper. Hiram E. Carpenter, Henderson, N. Y., U. S. A."

The above remarkable testimonial was written January 19, 1880, and is republished because of the permanency of the cure. Under date of April 22, 1910, Mr. Carpenter wrote from his present home, 610 Walnut St. So., Lansing, Mich., U. S. A.: "I have never suffered a return of the psoriasis and although many years have passed I have not forgotten the terrible suffering I endured before using the Cuticura Remedies."

THE DANGERS OF COUGHS AND COLDS.

Few people realise the grave dangers attending the ordinary, everyday cough and cold. Let it be understood that far from being troubles that we must take as a matter of course, coughs and colds are Nature's danger-signals. She is warning the person that something is wrong; that other troubles are looming ahead. There is no question of this. Such terrible diseases as Consumption, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pneumonia, Pleurisy, Influenza, Asthma, and a host of other diseases generally herald their approach by a cough or a cold. A cough must be instantly dispersed. Colds must never under any circumstances be allowed to frequently recur. A neglected cough has caused the death of thousands. For instance, every year in England and Wales alone about 60,000 people die of Consumption, and in the majority of cases the course of the disease was hastened because coughs and colds were allowed to recur at frequent intervals. It is safe to say that of this number many would be alive to-day if they had but resorted to rational measures. The finest remedy that cures coughs and colds and, moreover, in a great measure, prevents their recurrence, is

CONGREVE'S BALSAMIC ELIXIR.

This remedy has cured many thousands who have been given up by the physician. It has done this good work for over 80 years, thus proving the marvellous nature of its powers. During this period many have emphatically stated that Congreve's Elixir has snatched them from the jaws of death. It has brought them up from the depths of despair and placed them on the high pinnacle of hope. It has changed wrecked humanity into healthy, glowing bodies, full of life and vigour. And, furthermore, it has worked not for a day, but for over 80 years. This is a strong enough guarantee that the Elixir is a marvellous remedy. Those who are suffering from frequently recurring coughs and colds should lose no time in trying it. They are assured of good and lasting results. Those who are consumptive, or those in whose family consumption and other lung troubles are known, should write for G. T. Congreve's valuable and scientific work, "Consumption and other Lung Troubles: Successful Treatment." It is sent free to those who make application to Coombe Lodge, Peckham, London, S. E.

CONGREVE'S ELIXIR has been for nearly a century the Standard Household Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption and all affections of Throat and Chest. Prices in England 1-1½, 2-9, 4-6 and 11. Obtainable from Messrs. THOMSON & TAYLOR, Esplanade, Bombay, and all Chemists throughout the Empire.

SCIATICA AND RHEUMATISM.

Mr. John Barrow, residing at 15, Duke Street Bradford, Manchester, England, writes:—"I shall never fail to recommend Doan's Backache Kidney Pills to others, for the medicine has done me wonderful good.

"For two or three years I suffered from what I believe was sciatica and rheumatism. There were pains in the legs and the bottom of the back, and sometimes when walking briskly along a street, I have been seized with sharp, cutting pains in the hips and knees, causing me to walk lame for a time.

"I have tried mustard baths and Turkish baths, and had medical treatment, but all to little avail. A short course of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, however, has practically cured me. I have felt like a new man since using the medicine. I remain, yours respectfully.

(Signed) "JOHN BARROW."

"Nearly six-and-a-half years later" Mr. Barrow added :—"I stand by all I said for Doan's Backache Kidney Pills nearly seven years ago ; and although I always like to keep the medicine handy, I am glad to say there has been no sign of the sciatica returning."

THE HEALTH OF THE ARMY.

SIR THOMAS GALLWEY'S declaration that the health of the British Army is better than ever it was before, is as true of the British troops in India as at home. The latest available returns, dealing with 1908-09, may not be considered to prove this on the face of them, for the rates of admission to hospital and mortality were higher than those of the previous year. Yet there is evidence of strenuous striving after the end Sir Thomas announces, and of excellent work performed. The heavier figures noted are shown to have fallen entirely upon the troops of the Northern Army and were due entirely to the greater prevalence of malaria. But excepting unmentionable diseases nearly all the more important ones were more prevalent. There was, however, a remarkable fall in the rate of invaliding, which was chiefly due to the action taken to ensure that only those men should be invalided who were not likely to recover their health by a change to one of the hill stations. The principal causes of death were enteric, cholera, and abscess of the liver, more than half the increase over the previous year's rate being due to cholera which caused seventy-six deaths, as compared with two. Then the admission rate for European troops was nearly one and a quarter times as high as that for Native troops and the constantly sick rate was a little more than twice as high. Concerning the relative healthiness of troops comprising the Northern and Southern Armies, it appears that the Peshawar and Rawalpindi divisions suffered most, chiefly from cholera and enteric. No fewer than twenty-two stations were regarded as having been especially unhealthy, the incidence of enteric being greatest at Jubbulpur, Rawalpindi, Peshawar and Sitapur; of malarial fevers at Meerut, Agra, Ferozepur and Mooltan ; of dysentery at Madras, Jubbulpur, Kirkee and Allahabad, and of diseases, the fault of the sufferer, at Fort William, Madras, Shwebo and Fyzabad. Influenza caused an admission rate of 6·3 per thousand among the European troops as compared with 12·5 in the previous year, the disease being confined almost entirely to the troops of the Northern Army, and cases reported from eighty-two stations of which one reported 2·1 per thousand of its total strength. Cholera was unusually prevalent among the general population of the country and 93 cases with 76 deaths occurred among European troops. Small-pox was also more prevalent in India, and there was an increase in the number of cases among European troops. Malaria was severally prevalent, but this disease is shown to be decreasing. The rate for the decennial period, ending with 1888, was 485 per thousand, for that ending with 1898, it was 374 and for that ending 1908, only 223.

The Sanitary Commissioner, in his report to the Government of India, makes long reference to the prophylactic administration of quinine, which has been carried out with varying strictness at various times and places. The results reported by medical officers are more conflicting and not so satisfactory as usual, but in a few stations, the Sanitary Commissioner thinks, may be justly attributed to the lack of strictness with which the administration was carried out. At Rawalpindi, it is stated, the Medical Officer's previous experience had led him to have little faith in the measure and during the year the administration was carried out without medical supervision. The same in various other stations. It is quite possible, observes the Commissioner, that quinine doses and at the intervals usually recommended may sometimes fail to prevent malaria among European troops, but before accepting this view he thinks it necessary to show that reported failures cannot be accounted for by the common reasons that are found to afford an adequate explanation of failures among other classes of people in India. On the whole, it appears to him that as regards reported failures among European troops, the distribution of effort over a number of quite dissimilar anti-malarial measures has tended to prevent that concentration of attention upon quinine prophylaxis from which alone successful results by this method can be attained. The practice of keeping regiments in hill stations longer than was customary some years ago and the removal of regiments to camps at some distance from the barracks, have tended to diminish the amount of malaria and it has been suggested by several Medical Officers that these measures should be more widely adopted in very malarious years. Operations against mosquitoes by such measures as can be accomplished by mosquito brigades, have now been in practice in nearly all stations in the plains for several years. In most stations it is recorded, they are thoroughly carried out, but it is the general opinion of Medical Officers that by limited measures of this kind an appreciable reduction of the number of anopheline mosquitoes is not produced.

With regard to enteric it is reported, that as the result chiefly of the use of better media and methods of isolation and differentiation the numbers of these "typhosus-like" organisms is now very considerable. Much literature has been published on the subject of enteric, which is commented on in the report, especially that concerning bacillus-carriers. The work done upon the subject is considered likely to prove of great benefit to India. The depot which was opened at Naini Tal, almost two years ago, received in the first eight months of its existence 310 convalescents, of whom 190 underwent the bacteriological examinations necessary for the detection of carriers and 120 remained to be examined. As a result of these examinations various discoveries were made of facts interesting to medical science. It is now generally recognised that enteric is spread by a vehicle such as water or milk the source of supply which is common to a large number of people, and by contact infection from person to person. The first method usually causes the simultaneous infection of many people and results in a sudden and extensive, but often short epidemic, the second is associated with the continued prevalence for a considerable period of a variable number of cases occurring at short intervals. In different localities and conditions the relative importance of these methods differs greatly and similar differences exist as regards the relative importance of the various vehicles and agencies concerned in the spread of the disease by each method. Reports on the subject have been sent in by medical officers in charge of station hospitals, though some of them are regarded as unsatisfactory. Nevertheless there is sufficient evidence of painstaking, conscientious effort to discover the causes of disease and the most effectual means of preventing and combatting it, without which the results announced by Sir Thomas Gallwey could not have been achieved.

DARWIN'S COUSIN. THE late Sir Francis Galton, who has passed away just as he was entering on his ninetieth year, has distinguished himself in so many branches of science that it is rather hard to imagine in what branch he will be remembered the most. Geography, meteorology, anthropology with its subsidiary anthropometry, have all been served by him zealously and all have received most important and original contributions from him. The science of geography, especially geographical exploration, claimed him first and he gave it his youthful years of hard practical work. In the exploration of Africa he was a pioneer, both in the north-east and the south-west. So long ago as 1845 he ascended the White Nile and showed the way to the later explorers, Livingstone and Baker and Burton. He next, in 1850, explored Damaraland and Ovampoland in South Africa, tracts which had practically been never traversed before, and got the Royal Geographical Society's gold medal for his work describing his pioneer labours in tropical South Africa. He embodied, in his extremely useful little book, the "Art of Travel," his experience of wild countries which he had traversed, for the use of fellow-travellers. The work had for long a great vogue and is now only replaced by other books which are practically based on it. His "Vacation Tour in Spain" is not only delightful reading, but shows what a trained observer can do even in known lands. Weather is an essential subject for the traveller and explorer, and he gave it his special attention for a number of years and did much to render its study a science. His "Meteorographica" is a kind of landmark in the science of the weather, which he had continued to serve in various ways, especially in a practical manner by acting as an adviser in meteorology to the Board of Trade for long. He studied anthropology very keenly and this led him to bestow his attention on hereditary genius, a subject with which his name has for forty years and more been most identified and by which he will probably be best remembered posthumously. His researches into this branch of heredity are extremely interesting and his many books and essays on the subject are deservedly popular though not to the extent we could wish.

His book on the Human Faculty first appeared in 1883 and was republished by him only the other day in popular form, with revisions, in a largely circulated series of book for the people. This book may be called epoch-making in a way, as it has become the starting-point for more elaborate investigations, both in England and in America, first suggested by it. The science of eugenics which Galton was the first to investigate—the very word "eugenics" was coined by him—has lately received great impetus and been recognised as a subject of study by the University of London in which he has endowed a Research Fellowship for it. Perhaps he has laid himself open to the charge, usually brought against him, of over-theorising in his books and memoirs on his favourite subject. But hardly any pioneer is free from that charge. It is very noteworthy that Galton himself was a conspicuous example of the transmission of genius in families which he so keenly investigated, for he was the cousin, father's sister's son of Charles Darwin, the eminent scientist, while both these distinguished men were the grandsons of Erasmus Darwin, the famous poet and original thinker of the time of George III. Probably this fact led him to examine the subject of hereditary genius more closely and to gather together other similar instances found in other families, contemporary as well as past. There was not only hereditary genius in his family but also hereditary longevity. His cousin Charles Darwin and his grandfather Erasmus, both exceeded the Psalmist's span of three score and ten, whilst his uncle, Charles's father, lived till he was 82. His grandmother was 85 when she died, while his elder brother, Edward, died two years ago at the age 93. So we are not surprised that Francis Galton lived to be 90. He added more genius as well as longevity to be inherited by his family in the future by marrying the daughter of the late Dr. George Butler, a distinguished Cambridge don who became Headmaster of Harrow and Dean of Peterborough, and who died in his eightieth year. The present master of Trinity College, Cambridge, a great classical scholar as well as divine, who is only two years short of his father's eighty, is Francis Galton's brother-in-law. Galton received the usual scientific honours long ago from the learned societies, but obtained some sort of recognition from the State only two years before his death in the knighthood conferred on him.

EDUCATION FOR CONVICTS. WE must confess that Mr. Winston Churchill is at least thorough and in his prison reform scheme he is persistently proceeding on sound, if somewhat unconventional, lines. The latest development is, indeed, in the nature of a novel experiment. A number of convicts serving long sentences and lads in the various Borstal institutions are to be given courses of instruction by correspondence through the medium of the International Correspondence Schools. In a letter addressed to that institution, the Secretary to the Prison Commissioners, has stated that the innovation is the outcome of an experiment undertaken by the authorities of the International Correspondence Schools during the year in regard to twelve inmates of the Borstal institution at Lincoln. That this experiment has shown good results is proved by the expressed determination of the Commissioners to extend its application to the other branches of the penal system. The convicts with whom this fuller experiment will be tried will be those whose aptitude appears to be promising and whose sentences are long enough to enable them to complete a course of instruction. This last sentence contains the important point in the scheme. We must confess that, startling as the scheme appears at first sight, we do not see why it should not produce good results, provided that a judicious selection be made of the men who are to be given an opportunity to profit by it. In an interview, the Manager of the "Students Aid Department" of the Borstal institution at Lincoln has given an interesting account of the first experiments there. "A boy," he said, "who had been a mechanic's assistant is being fitted for the higher branches of the trade, and every week we have to send him fresh supplies of drawing materials, so eagerly does he pursue his studies. A youth who had been engaged in the cotton-weaving industry has, in less than six months, gained a thorough working knowledge of mensuration, geometry and several of the other subjects which will tend to make him something more than a mere tool to be worked by others." He continued : "The problem of how to find work for men who are known to have the prison taint upon them should, in this way, be solved. The mere fact that a convict has set himself assiduously to work upon his self-improvement should be a practical indication to employers that there is a growing germ of good in him. The course selected for each man will be based upon his individual tastes and the recommendations of the Governor and Chaplain of the prison in which he is confined. He will have a wide curriculum to choose from, but, judging by the twelve lads at Lincoln, the great majority will desire practical education in mechanics." Should the convict, however, develope a taste for languages, these he may learn by listening to phonographic records, while the pupils in the technical classes will be given a clearer notion of the conditions in ordinary life of the industries they are studying by cinematography. No doubt much will be said and written about "pampered criminals" in consequence of this announcement, but we think that Mr. Churchill's scheme, though somewhat daring, is based on common sense and deserves every encouragement.

ENGLISH POLITICAL AND SOCIAL LETTER.

A CALAMITOUS PERIOD.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, JAN. 6.

"Horror is piled on horror this Christmastide," observes the Times, in describing the gruesome details of the greatest of all the horrors after the pit disaster, the accident to the Scottish Express. Terrible, however as that catastrophe is it is a mercy that it was not worse. When the ill-fated train left St. Pancras at midnight on Friday, she carried 500 passengers, and the earlier accounts of the collision made no mention of the fact that all but forty of these had booked for Leicester and Leeds, the two stopping places between London and Carlisle. Considering the large proportion of fatalities, it is painful to think what the loss of life might have been had it been one of the crowded trains that ran to Scotland earlier in the day. The exact number of persons killed is not yet apparently ascertained and some put it at fourteen. Another comforting fact if it be a fact is that all the victims were killed outright and not burnt to death. The General Superintendent of the line is responsible for this statement and if what, he says, is true as all hope, it may be I do not envy the feelings of the authors of certain sensational stories to the contrary. We know that the collision was caused by an unfortunate, but not altogether surprising, act of forgetfulness on the part of a signalman. We have still to learn exactly how the fire occurred; but the evidence so far given points to gas as the cause. "How was the train lighted ?" the guard was asked. He replied: —"The sleeping cars, I believe, were lighted by electricity; but the other carriages were all lighted with gas." The foremen of one of the two light engines which, by the way, were coupled at the time in his evidence said that the fire was underneath the coaches and he saw gas burning. In reply to the Government Inspector, Major Pringle, the witness said that he saw gas coming out of one of the cylinders and that it was alight. Many people must have been asking themselves whether it is safe on occasion when the traffic is as heavy as it always is the day before Christmas to leave the signalling at important points on a line to one man quite apart from the fact that he might suddenly become ill and be unable to discharge his duty. The unhappy man, Alfred Sutton who allowed the Express to rush into the two light engines, said that he had been employed as signalman at Hawes Junction for more than twenty years and had been on the Midland Railway for twenty-six years. He went on duty on December 22 at 8 p.m. and went off at 6 a.m. on the 23rd. He had the same hours of duty on the next day. He had admitted that he was very busy on the fatal morning but not more so than usual at Christmas and he would not allow that ten hours were too long for a day's work or that a second man was necessary in the signal-box. At the precise spot where the collision took place, the line is curved and the theory is advanced that the train would probably not have left the rails at all if it had been proceeding in a straight line.

BRITAIN AND GERMANY.

The whispers of a rapprochement with Germany which, light as air and as nebulous as gossamer, have been caught here, and there lately, received more concrete expression in the Daily News of Thursday. That journal, in a leading article, denounced "the gross and dangerous misuse in current political writings of the phrase "triple entente," as indicating something like an alliance between England, France and Russia with a single foreign policy directed against the Triple Alliance. The "News" went so far as to declare that there is no such thing as the "triple entente," Naturally the article has aroused some interest abroad, especially in Germany and France and the "News" Berlin correspondent states that his journal's pronouncement is regarded there as both opportune and important. I believe the basis of the whole thing is to be found in the Government's great desire to reduce the huge expenditure on armaments and that it may well be that some such consummation may be arranged in the not-too-distant future. Mr. Lloyd George's announcement in France that the Government are prepared, if necessary, to add £10,000,000 to the naval estimates, is taken in well informed circles to be nothing more than an indication to the German authorities that if an agreement is not reached, Great Britain will increase the pace to such an extent that they must recognise the contest to be hopeless.

REGINALD FRANK DOHERTY.

The death of R. F. Doherty robs the world of one who, a few years ago, was probably its most famous tennis player and who even this year beat most of the best men in practice before the Wimbledon meeting. Nothing was more fascinating than "R. F.'s" game so apparently careless but so tremendously effective. He had the power of anticipation to a wonderful degree and was thus able to conserve his strength, never very great and lately continually decreasing. There was grace in every movement and his strokes, made with slightest effort, were always deceitful to his opponents undoing. The mere catalogue of wins, many as they are, would fail to give any impression of the manner in which he has dominated and influenced the game, both in England and America. Of course, in speaking of "R. F." the name of "H. L." at once challenges comparison, but it is probable that the influence of the elder brother has been and will be more far-reaching and one ventures to hope will eventually bring back to the Motherland that world supremacy in tennis which she has recently lost.

THE HOUNDSDITCH AFFAIR.

The Russian anarchists for whom the police have offered £500 reward are, at the time of writing, still at liberty, but the police have made some sensational discoveries in the East End. As doubtless you have been informed by cable the lodgings of the dead assassin have been discovered, were found to be a perfect arsenal for the manufacture of high explosives. Nitro-glycerine, picric acid, nitric acid, fulminate of mercury and other chemicals were found in considerable quantities, together with a number of books dealing with bomb-manufacture and a mass of correspondence. The police, I understand, believe themselves to be on the verge of discovering some startling things. Meanwhile, however, everyone is wishing that "Peter the Painter" and his colleague or colleagues were safely lodged under lock and key. It is not at all unlikely that they are safe on the Continent though the police are continuing their almost microscopic search of the East-End. Five persons, three men and two women, appeared at the Guildhall on Thursday in connection with the tragedy, and it is interesting to note that a witness who lived in Middlesex-street, (sometime Petticoat-lane), which is contiguous to Exchange buildings, declared that two of the men were those, he said, leading the assassin, now dead, away from the scene of the battue. They threatened him with revolvers, he said, and ordered him not to follow. Thereupon, he ran away and small blame to him. I understand that the police attach no great importance to this identification, both the bad light and the bad fight being quite enough excuse for the witness to be mistaken.

THE POLICE AND THE REVOLVER.

We have not had long to wait for an imitation of the drastic methods so successfully adopted by the Russian murderers and again we have had evidence of the pluck of the London policeman. Seeing a man emerge from the first-floor window of a Borough public-house, P. C. George Haytread gave chase. The man threatened him with a revolver and as the plucky constable persisted fired four times as he drew nearer. Fortunately his aim was not deadly and Haytread closed with him. The cowardly criminal in the struggle managed to free his pistol-hand and place the revolver against the constable's temple and actually pulled the trigger but fortunately the cartridge jammed. By this time assistance, summoned by a working-woman who bravely got hold of the policeman's whistle, had arrived, and Haytread was enabled to take his desperate capture to the lock-up. It is to be hoped that the pistol as a means of escape will not become too common. When the Borough gentleman was before the magistrate, Mr. Plowden, the latter asked the police if the accused was an Englishman. Before they could answer the reply came from the dock, "Yes, I am." Mr. Plowden said he was sorry for it. In another police court case in London this week two young hooligans with English names were charged with attempting to murder one man (a stranger) and two others against whom they appear to have had some grievance. Here also the weapons used were revolvers. The mother of one of the men fired out said that after a revolver was discharged she heard some one in the crowd shout "Don't run Tommy. Let's kill all the coppers round our way." Cases of this kind have a bearing on what the Prime Minister said in his speech at Edinburgh on the occasion of the presentation to him of the freedom of that city. Society ought to tackle the problem of hooliganism into which so many of our young men drift through having learnt no trade when boys. Some think that universal military service would help to cure the evil and perhaps it would. Some years ago I accompanied an American visitor to the East-End to show her some of the philanthropic institutions there. In one locality we got into conversation with a policeman who talked about the trouble the Hooligans of that neighbourhood were causing and pointing in the direction of several of a cluster of mean sheets he told us that in each there was a detective. I suggested that a recruiting sergeant might perhaps be more useful.

BIG GAME HUNTING IN KENT.

The Himalayan bear which is the pet of the King's Royal Rifles was a great, if elusive, centre of interest in the Folkestone district over Christmastide. Excited, it is hinted, by over-indulgence in bottled beer, "Teddy" broke quarters and for forty hours roamed the countryside giving all and sundry with whom he came in contact the fright of their lives. Soldiers, police and the ubiquitous boy scout scoured the woods for miles around, but it was left to the six year old child of a Royal Engineer to discover his errant bearship in some burnt-out ruins of an officers' mess close to his home. The Rifles having craftily surrounded him used soft words and cajolery and even tempted him with a bottle of his favourite beer, but "Teddy" declined to return. Then came a rough-and-tumble and it took nearly a score of bruised and dusty soldiers to chain and capture him. He was for some hours a bear with a very sore head, but soon shewed great penitence and his punishment is merely a few days' "C. B."

THE HOLIDAYS IN THE POLICE COURTS.

One frequently finds the most diverting humour in the police courts after Merry Christmastide. At Willesden on Monday, for instance, a constable gravely informed the court that before he arrested his prisoner he reminded him it was Christmas-day and he did not wish to lock him up, while another gentleman from the dock mildly protested against the manner in which he had been spoken to by the man in blue. "Policeman," he said, "should be careful how they address intoxicated people, as so very little upsets them !" But most amusing of all was Mr. Frank Phillips of Paddington. He had revelled well rather than wisely on Christmas day and at its close he entered Harrow-road Police-station and refused to leave. "I would rather be locked up," he explained, "than go home and put up with the old woman's jaw." The selection of a police-cell as a refuge from marital naggings stamps Mr. Phillips as a person of originality. It is satisfactory to add he received sympathetic consideration from the Marylebone Magistrate next morning and was discharged.

OLLA PODRIDA.

"Wanderer" of The Sportsman, writing in last Wednesday's issue of that journal about the coming visit of a Pan-Indian team of cricketers, says:—"Such a combination of all sections has long been the dream of that leading Parsee, J. M. Framjee Patell, with whom when he was last in this country, I had the pleasure at a well-known West End Club of a long chat on the project which has presented not a few difficulties, apparently now surmounted." Doubtless by this time the organisers of the Eleven have foregathered with Mr. J. E. Raphael, the ex-Surrey Captain, who, if I mistake not, is personally known to Mr. Patell.

A correspondent signing himself "Indian" has started a correspondence in the Manchester Guardian on the position of Indian students in this country. What he says is worthy of careful consideration, but he is not quite correct when he observes that "in Oxford and Cambridge no college takes in more than two Indian students." There is at Cambridge one college—Downing—which has the names of 30 Indian students on its books.

GERMAN SUBMARINE DISASTER.

Engine-Room Flooded.

BERLIN, JAN. 19.

It is officially stated that the submarine disaster was due to water, from some unexplained cause, flooding the engine-room, entering at a point where the ventilation tube is fixed in the side of the vessel. The oblique position of the boat upset the acid in the accumulators and, as a result, the place was filled with poisonous fumes. The three men were killed, not from a lack of oxygen, but through the penetration of the poisonous fumes.

INVESTMENT OF BRITISH CAPITAL.

India a Good Field.

ENGLISH BANKERS' VIEWS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, JAN. 20.

Mr. Reginald Murray, formerly Manager of the Chartered Bank of India, read a paper on "Banking in India" before the Indian Section of the Society of Arts. He considered that India as a field for investment offered much more secure and more varied opportunities for investment than had hitherto been recognised by the London capitalists. There was no longer any cause to fear the instability of the currency. Mr. Murray was convinced that Western education and association with Western peoples had taught the people of India to appreciate a better style of living and freer opportunities for enjoyment. Indians were not fools. They had no desire to return to the days when famine was not relieved and when bands of freebooting sepoys looted through the land.

Banking in India, great as was its progress, was, Mr. Murray said, still in its swaddling clothes.

Sir Felix Schuster, who presided, was of opinion that there had been no real set-back to the Indian credit. The unrest did not affect the minds of investors much, and there would be plenty of capital available for Indian enterprise so long as the British public knew that the loans were being devoted to the development of railways and kindred purposes. He did not doubt that with a return to cheap money in London, capital would flow into India for employment by banks. Sir Felix believed that with the development of railways and absence of agitation at home and in India progress would be such, in another couple of decades, as was little dreamed of at present.

THE FORTIFICATION OF FLUSHING.

French Press Comment.

LONDON, JAN. 20.

The Journal des Debats says that no one dreams of contesting Holland's right to strengthen her defences, but the fortification of Flushing is obviously anti-British and in accordance with the views of Germany.

The Temps thinks that the suggested diplomatic conversations regarding Flushing do not seem feasible. Holland, the paper says, must refit herself, but, if she carries out this scheme she will notify in the clearest manner her adhesion to the Triple Alliance.

DISPUTE ABOUT A PARSI TEMPLE.

Founder's Heirs' Rights.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

SECUNDERABAD, JAN. 20.

At the Court of the First Asst. Resident, Hyderabad, judgment was delivered yesterday in the case of Dustoor Khurshedji, son of Byramji, head priest of the Parsi Community, Secunderabad, the appellant-defendant, versus Dr. Kaikashroo Jivanji and others respondents.

The plaintiffs' original suit was filed in 1907. Dustoor Khurshedji appealed against the judgment of the Civil Judge who found that the heirs of the original founders of a Parsi temple are perpetual and absolute managers of the temple, dwelling-house and compound and granted plaintiffs a declaratory decree and injunction. The judgment in the appeal upheld the decision of the lower court on the ground that their ancestors endowed the temple on the condition that the heirs and their representatives should be absolute managers and the question regarding insolvency of founder's family and attachment of their property have no bearing on the case. Subsequent gifts or additions by other benefactors did not alter the case.

The judgment adds that the officiating priest, whose duty it should have been to defend the institutions, set up his absolutely unwarrantable claim to private ownership of certain portions of the institutions. It was the duty of hereditary managers, mutawallis or trustees to sue him in a corporate capacity and protect the endowed property. This was not done; the majority of guardians who number over 100 was taking little or no interest in the institutions. The principle that all the trustees must join in the suit remains unshaken, but it is a recognised principle, that where religious institutions are concerned, the founders and their heirs have a right to sue to protect the property. The suit need not necessarily fail by reason of nonjoinder of all the trustees. The plea was accepted as regards a small lot of land and a declaratory decree may be granted restraining the land and premises which belong to the religious endowment and an injunction may be granted restraining defendant from asserting personal rights over the property. As regards the plaintiffs' rights no decree is given. They have been treated as founder's heirs, and are entitled to sue for the protection of the property, not as trustees. Costs have been awarded in favour of the respondents.

MADRAS, JAN. 20.

The motive alleged was that by doing so he would place himself in possession of certain lands owned by the deceased's mother.

Mr. Justice Benson upheld the conviction and sentence of death, while Mr. Justice Abdur Rahim set aside the same. In view of this difference of opinion the case has been directed to be posted before a third Judge.

IMPERIAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Resolutions for Next Meeting.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, JAN. 20.

The following are the texts of the resolutions to be moved at the meeting of the Legislative Council of the Governor-General next Tuesday:—

By Mr. Subba Rao:—"That this Council recommends that a mixed Commission consisting of officials and non-officials, be appointed to consider the claims of Indians to higher and more extensive employment in the Public service connected with the civil administration of the country.

By Mr. Mudholker: "That this Council recommends to the Governor-General in Council that the Government of India do appoint a Committee of qualified officials and non-officials to enquire into and report upon:—(1) How there is a present demand for instruction in railway engineering, ship-building and navigation, mining engineering and mining chemistry, metallurgy and metal manufacture, the different departments of industrial chemistry and higher courses of mechanical and electrical engineering and textile manufacture; (2) how far such demands are met and can be met by existing institutions with their present staff and equipment; (3) whether and how far further and better provision can be made by developing these institutions and by securing for them the co-operation of workshops and establishments belonging to State or local authorities, public co-operations or subsidised companies; (4) whether it would be necessary to create any new institution for any of these purposes and to further instruct such Committee to make definite proposals for giving effect to their conclusions, should they be of opinion that action on the part of Government is necessary or desirable."

By Mr. Sachitananda Sinha: "That with reference to sec 3, sub-section(2) of the Indian Councils Act, 1909, this Council recommends to the Governor-General in Council that action may be taken by him with a view to the creation of a Council in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh for the purpose of assisting the Lieut-Governor in the executive government of the Province."

By the Hon'ble Mr. Chitnavis: "That this Council recommends to the Governor-General ni Council that at thenext settlement of land revenue in the Central Provinces, the principle of assessment should be that the land revenue demand should be approximate as closely to half the assets as local circumstances will permit, provided that no loss of actual revenue and no great sacrifice of prospective revenue is involved."

CALCUTTA, JAN. 20.

It is quite probable that the Hon'ble Mr. Subba Rao's resolution on the employment of Indians in the higher branches of the public service will not come up for discussion in the meeting of the Supreme Council on 24th instant.

"AN ARMED ULSTER."

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY BY RIVER.

Interesting Experiments on the Frontier.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, JAN. 20.

Particulars are published here of an interesting series of experiments conducted during the past three years on the North-West Frontier by Mr. Habibul Rahman Khan, Deputy Superintendent of Telegraphs, whereby wireless messages are transmitted along rivers, the water serving to convey the electric waves with greater certainty and from a much less elaborate apparatus than is required for ordinary wireless messages. The report states that Mr. Habibul Rahman's system requires good earths to be dug to the water-level at both ends and, this being done, he is able to maintain communication with comparatively small power instruments. In April, 1908, the telegraph line between Chitral and Mastaj, a distance of sixty-seven miles, was interrupted for four or five days owing to a storm, but Mr. Habibul Rahman was able to maintain communication with India; by having river earths and Cardew's vibrators.

During the last disturbance on the Frontier, when Chitral and the other adjacent forts were threatened by outlaws, the telegraph line was once temporarily disconnected as a trial between Chitral and Drosh, but communication was not interrupted, as Mr. Rahman had river earths at both these places. Mr. Habibul Rahman holds the view that the frontier is well adapted for the use of the river system. He has submitted the result of his experiments to the Director-General of Telegraphs and Mr. M. G. Simpson, the Electrical Engineer-in-Chief. The Director-General has conveyed his congratulations to Mr. Habibul Rahman, on the result of his experiments through Mr. H. S. Styan, the Director of Traffic, who adds that it is very notable that Mr. Habibul Rahman should have been able to communicate by means of the river between Chitral and Drosh, a distance of twenty-five miles, with the small power available from the ordinary Cardew vibrator. The Electrical Engineer-in-Chief intends to arrange for further trials of the river wireless system.

SECONDARY EDUCATION.

Accommodation in High Schools.

The following Press Note on the above subject was issued last evening:—

Last year the Director of Public Instruction brought to notice certain questions connected with secondary education more especially in connection with the amount of accommodation to be provided in Government high schools. The matter was referred to the Commissioners of Divisions for joint report. The Commissioners considered the subject in conference, which was also attended by the Director of Public Instruction, and submitted the following report:—

"As directed in Government memorandum No. 483, dated 8th March, 1910, we have considered in conference the question of the extent to which Government should, in our opinion, provide for the increasing demand for secondary education in high schools. The Honourable Mr. Sharp was invited to join the conference; and we are unanimous in making the following suggestions for the consideration of Government.

"The policy of Government in the matter of the provision of secondary schools has been repeatedly declared to be to provide (so far as circumstances permit) one high school in each district to serve as a model. Except Thar and Parker and Upper Sind Frontier, which may be disregarded, Kolaba and Ahmednagar, which have aided high schools, and Larkhana and East Khandesh, which have no high school, every district now has a Government high school.

"In some places private enterprize has come forward to supplement the provision made by Government, with or without aid from Provincial revenues; and some at least of these private institutions seem to be as efficient as those under Government management. In other parts private enterprize has not been forthcoming to the same extent; but we think that this may be partly due to the fact that hitherto Government have always supplied extra accommodation when it seemed to be required, and the public have got into the way of expecting this process to go on indefinitely.

"We are of opinion that the time has now come for Government definitely to declare that this process cannot go on for ever, and that they cannot undertake to provide English education for all the boys of a district who desire it, except where for special reasons Government may not wish to encourage the institution of private high schools. We are of opinion that so long as Government maintain in each district requiring it a model high school, accommodating a reasonable number of boys, they will be performing all the obligations which they have ever undertaken, or which can be legitimately expected from them so long as the majority of villages in this Presidency are without any school at all, and so long as the majority of primary school masters are so ill-paid as at present.

"It does not seem to us necessary that the provision should be the same in all districts, nor necessarily the same as is provided at present. We suggest that the Educational Department should ascertain and fix a reasonable number of boys to be accommodated in each high school, in proportion to the population and educational condition of each district.

"At the same time we are of opinion that each such high school should be maintained in as efficient a condition as possible, so as really to serve as a model. Two require to be built; some require to be rebuilt; some require hostels and playgrounds; many require improved equipment; and a revision of the pay of assistant masters, such as will attract to this service not only graduates but graduates of the better class, is urgently needed. All these improvements will involve considerable expenditure, and we are of opinion that at least part of this expenditure may fairly be met by an enhancement of the present school fees. While the cost of buildings and establishments is constantly rising, these fees remain at a figure fixed many years ago which is quite disproportionate to the cost price of the education received; and in view of the increasing pressure upon the high schools, and the number of applicants who have to be refused, we think that the present fees might be raised by 50 per cent. Under the Grant-in-aid Code the fees in aided and recognized schools are expected to be not less than two-thirds of those in Government schools in the same locality. If fees are raised in Government high schools, this condition should be strictly enforced. The consequent raising of their fees, combined with the certainty that the accommodation fixed for each Government high school will not be enlarged, should serve to encourage private managers to make adequate provision to meet the increasing demand.

"Allowing that the circumstances of Bombay City are exceptional, and therefore setting aside the Elphinstone High and Middle Schools, in which rather higher fees are charged, we find that the prevailing monthly rates are as follows:—

Standards	I,II	Re. 1
Standard	III	" 1 or 1-8
Do.	IV,V	Rs. 1-8 or 2
Do.	VI,VII	" 2, 2-8 or 3.

Thus a boy passing through seven standards in seven years in one of these schools pays in fees a total sum varying from 120 to 162 rupees only. We do not know why the rates vary so much, and suggest that the Educational Department should at least consider the possibility of making the rates uniform, except in Bombay.

"If fees are raised, as we suggest, we consider that the whole of the increase of receipts should be devoted entirely to the improvement, and to the extension where absolutely necessary, of high schools and their hostels. It should be made quite clear to the public that the fees have not been enhanced in order to raise revenue or to discourage secondary education, but simply to meet increased expenses in the high school themselves, and that Government will not decrease "pro tanto" their normal allotment of funds to those objects. The immediate effect may, no doubt, be a falling off in attendance and in the total receipts; but in view of the demand for Anglo-Vernacular education it may be anticipated that the schools will fill up again, and in any case we recommend that one-third of the total receipts from fees be devoted to improvements, over and above the normal expenditure.

"It is, however, essential that in this process a strict watch would be kept on schools under private management. While desirous of encouraging private enterprize, we are of opinion that the Department should insist on private schools being properly housed, equipped, staffed, and supervised; so that boys may not be drawn away from the Government schools by any person who chooses to open what he is pleased to call a school.

"This leads us to say that we understand that practically nothing is known to the Educational Department at present about the masters in aided schools except their academic qualifications. We think that before recognizing their employment in a school the Dapartmnet should endeavour to inform itself of their antecedents and character; and should refuse to recognize any school in which masters declared to be undesirable are retained after due notice has been given. We also think that all masters in aided schools should be obliged to make a declaration of loyalty to the Government.

"Finally, we are of opinion that with the increased number of private schools and of pupils attending them there is great necessity of more supervision by the Educational Department. Practically all that can be done at present is an annual inspection on a date previously fixed; and the great size of some of these schools renders it difficult for the inspecting officer to spare the time necessary for the full inspection of their registers and records. This amount of supervision can hardly be called effective; and it is probable that the higher inspecting staff requires to be strengthened by the addition of another Educational Inspector, more especially for Bombay and its neighbourhood."

GOVERNMENT'S ORDERS.

This report was referred to the Commissioner in Sind, who expressed his entire general concurrence in the principles enunciated by the Commissioners of Divisions and the Director of Public Instruction. Government, after careful consideration of the report and of the remarks of the Commissioner in Sind, have issued the following orders:—

"In paragraph 9 of his letter dated 8th February, 1910 the Director of Public Instruction alluded to certain questions connected with provision of facilities for secondary education, more especially in connection with the amount of accommodation to be provided in Government high schools Government referred the matter for joint report to the Commissioners of the Presidency proper, and the Governor in Council has given full consideration to the views expressed by the Commissioners in their report, and also to those of the Commissioner in Sind.

"In the first place, Government desire to adhere to the view, already expressed,[*] that they should maintain in each district a high school that will serve as a model to other secondary institutions in the district. This policy has been almost completely carried out, the only districts in which Government high schools have not been established being Kolaba where there is an efficient high school managed by the Free Church Mission, Ahmednagar, where the Ahmednagar Education Society maintain a high school with the aid of special Government grants and East Khandesh and Larkhana where active measures are in progress to provide high schools.

"The next point is the amount of accommodation that should be provided in each district high school. It is clear that Government cannot undertake to provide secondary education for all boys that may wish it. Such as a course would involve expenditure beyond the financial resources of the State, and would be contrary to the declared policy of encouraging the provision of facilities for secondary education by private effort. The Governor in Council has therefore decided that the accommodation in each high school should be limited, due regard being had to the circumstances of each district. In resolution No. 1967, dated 4th October, 1909, orders were passed fixing the number of pupils to be admitted to each high school. These figures must now be revised, and the Director of Public Instruction should submit, after consultation with the Collectors, a statement showing for each high school the number of pupils, which would, in his opinion, be reasonable in proportion to the population and the educational requirements of each district. The statements should be consolidated for each division and for Sind and should reach Government through the Commissioner concerned.

"In paragraph 6 of their report the Commissioners enumerate certain improvements still required to make the high schools adequate to serve as models. Government have already under active consideration measures designed to give effect to most of these suggestions. Two new high schools are being built, two are being rebuilt, considerable expenditure on equipment is being sanctioned, and the pay of assistant masters is being improved at a recurring annual cost of Rs. 31,680. A recurring expenditure of Rs. 34,000 per annum and considerable non-recurring expenditure on additions and improvements are contemplated in the near future.

"The Commissioners recommend that in view of this year increasing expenditure, of the improved education now provided, and of the great pressure on the accommodation available, the present fees in Government high schools should be raised. Government have come to the conclusion that such a step is justified not only on these grounds, but also in order that private enterprize may not be discouraged by undue competition of Government institutions where the fees charged do not in many cases represent even a fair proportion of the cost price of education. It appears that at existing rates a boy can pass through all seven standards of a high school except in Bombay City on payment of fees varying from Rs. 120 to Rs. 162 for the seven years of the course. The rates are considerably higher in the middle and high schools situated in the City of Bombay, and it appears inadvisable to make any increase in them at present. But elsewhere there is considerable room for revision, and the Director of Public Instruction should now submit for the approval of Government a suitable scale of fees for each high school, and report whether any, and if so what, special rates should be prescribed for pupils belonging to the backward classes.

"When fees are raised in Government high schools the condition laid down in rule 3 (I), chapter I of the Grant-in-aid Code regarding the minimum rates to be charged in aided and recognised secondary schools should be strictly enforced by the Department, the cases requiring special treatment being submitted to Government for their orders. Government trust that these orders will prove an incentive to private effort, since on the one hand the increased fees will enable managers to provide education up to the standard required by present day conditions, while on the other hand they will know with certainty that Government will not compete with them beyond a certain fixed scale.

"The Governor in Council does not desire to appropriate the increased income from fees for general purposes, and he considers that it should be devoted to the further prosecution of the improvement of Government high schools. For this purpose he is prepared to set aside for the present a sum as nearly as possible equivalent to the increased receipts from fees, over and above the normal average expenditure now incurred on Government high schools.

"Government entirely concur in the remarks made in paragraph 9 of the joint report, and they fully endorse the opinion of the Commissioners that all private schools recognized by the Department should be properly housed, equipped, staffed and supervised so that no encouragement may be given to schools where the standard of efficiency is low.

"It is of importance that in encouraging the establishment of private institutions Government should feel satisfied that the character of the education imparted is such as they can approve. The inculcation of loyalty to the State must be an essential feature of any system of education that receives State recognition and State support. It is now the rule that all State servants should make on appointment a declaration of loyalty to Government, and the Governor in Council considers that this system should be applied to all teachers in State-aided schools. The Director should be asked to submit for the approval of Government a suitable form of declaration. Government concur with the Commissioners and the Director that before schools are recognized and brought on the aided list, regard should be paid to the points mentioned in paragraph 10 of the joint report, where the Commissioners refer to the necessity of close investigation of moral character as well as of academic qualifications of managers and teachers in private aided schools.

"With reference to paragraph 11 of the joint report, the Director should be asked to report whether the superior inspecting staff requires strengthening, and if so, to submit an estimate of the recurring and non-recurring expenditure involved."

Examinations will be notified from time to time, and appointments will be made according to the place taken by the candidates.

INDIAN FEEDER LINES.

Railway Board's Support.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, JAN 20.

A local paper publishes an analysis of feeder railways and says that the Murtarapur, Ellichpore and Mutazapur Yotmal branches have been already taken in hand by Messrs. Killick Nixon and Co. and concessions for the Godhra, Lunavada and Nadiad-Kapatpanj have been given to the same company.

Among the branches in the Bombay Presidency are lines from Dhond to Baramati, Kalyan to Belapur and Ambaji to Taranga these also have received the strongest support of the Railway Board, and the proposals are now before Sir George Clarke, but negotiations with the parent line, the G. I. P. Railway, will require time for development and fruition.

Next comes the line from Broach to Jambusar. A dispute that has actually risen is whether this line is a feeder line at all.

The B. B. and C. I. Ry. point to the fact that Jambusar is already connected to its system from the North by a line which would convert the proposed mileage into the completion of a chord and not the building of a new feeder. They have also another reason against the building of the line by Messrs. Killick Nixon, and it is one which they declare vitally affects the interests of the trunk line.

In Bengal, negotiations have been finally settled for the Jessore-Jenidah Line, and the Railway Board have under consideration several other schemes which will result favourably to the promoters. In the Punjab, the Seraikelat-Abbotabad Line has not attracted private enterprise, but offers are under consideration for the Mandra-Chakwal Branch. Thus it will be seen that the Board have treated private offers generally in a sympathetic spirit and without undue desire to trench on the Railway Budget.

INDIAN STUDENTS ABROAD.

THE Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians who desire to return to their country and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

The Government of India have also received intimation from the British Legation at Tokyo that orders have been issued by the Educational Department of the Japanese Government to the effect that applications on the part of foreign students for admission to schools in Japan, must be made through the Diplomatic or Consular Representatives of their country in Japan. It has been suggested to the Government of India that it would be a great convenience to His Majesty's Legation at Tokyo, if Indian students, who desire to prosecute their studies in Japan, were provided with recommendations from a recognized authority in India, as it is undesirable that applications should be made to the Japanese Educational Department without some guarantee as to the character and antecedents of the persons on whose behalf such applications are made.

The Governor-General-in-Council accordingly desires to make it known that Indian students and others visiting England, and Indian students proceeding to Japan, for their education should provide themselves, before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student proceeding to England, the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

It is believed also that the grant of such certificates of identity would be of use to Indian gentlemen proceeding to America, for the purpose of study or otherwise, and with the approval of the Secretary of State, the Governor-General-in-Council desires to recommend such Indian gentlemen to obtain, before their departure from India, an authoritative certificate of identity signed by the officers mentioned above.

RIDING ACCIDENT ON QUEEN'S ROAD.

Fall off the Horse.

A SOMEWHAT serious accident happened to Mr Gibson, of the Bank of Bombay, near the Church Gate Railway Station, on the Queen's Road, yesterday. It appears that after leaving the riding school at Marine Lines, Mr. Gibson's horse took fright at something and bolted. The animal ran along the Queen's Road and, when near the Church Gate Railway Station, attempted to jump over the gate there. Mr. Gibson tried to pull the horse towards his right, when he fell off and got his right leg fractured. Sergeant Coy, in charge of the riding-school, who, on seeing the animal restive, had followed him, came up and rendered assistance to Mr. Gibson and had him removed to St. George's Hospital, where the latter was detained for treatment.

BOMBAY HIGH COURT.

PARSI MATRIMONIAL COURT.

Dissolution by Release.

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Dinshaw Davar presided yesterday, at a sitting of the Parsi Chief Matrimonial Court. Eleven delegates were appointed to assist His Lordship in the trial.

The suit was for dissolution of marriage brought by one Jamshedji D. Billimoria alias Hazari against his wife Jarbai, and one Rustomji Nusserwanji Mehta, of Bombay, on the ground of misconduct.

The defence was two-fold. Misconduct was denied in the first instance. It was also contended that the plaintiff and the first defendant having signed a release (farqati) at Navsari, whereby their marriage was dissolved, the plaintiff could not now bring this suit as he was a domicile of Billimora, a territory of His Highness the Gaekwar.

Mr. R.B. Paymaster and Mr. Sorab B. Dadyburjor, pleaders, appeared for the plaintiff; Mr. D. J. Surty, pleader, appeared for the first respondent and Mr. J. D. Inverarity and Mr. G. R. Lowndes, instructed by Messrs. Jehangir and Seervai, for the co-respondent.

It was agreed that the question of law should be disposed of first.

This necessitated the examination of a pleader from Navsari to speak on the Baroda Law.

Mr. Inverarity said that he wanted a commission to go to Navsari.

Mr. Paymaster did not object to the commission going to Navsari and His Lordship made the necessary order.

The suit was then adjourned.

POLICE COURTS.

RIOT CASES.

Application for a Transfer.

YESTERDAY, at the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. A H S Aston, Chief Presidency Magistrate, several applications for the transfer of the cases to some other Court were made by Mr. Mirza Mahomed Ali Khan, solicitor, Mr. Oliveira, Mr. K. F. Norman, Mr. Reuben Solomon and Mr. Ballubhai Desai, Pleaders, on behalf of some of the accused charged before Mr. Setalvad, Fourth Presidency Magistrate, with rioting.

The grounds of the applications were: That the Magistrate could not be expected to keep an open and fair mind in the trial of the riot cases as he took a prominent part in visiting several localities during the Mohorrum nights and actively endeavoured to persuade the licensees to parade their tabuts in procession, but his efforts were not successful; that he was present at the scene of the alleged riots and it would be impossible for him to keep his mind free from any impression he might have then formed; that he ordered the crowds to disperse on the afternoon of the Mohorrum day and eventually gave the order to the military to open fire, that he had demanded excessive bail from each of the accused, namely, Rs. 1,000 and one surety for a like amount, irrespective of the pecuniary means and social status of the several accused, with the result that most of the accused were in custody though the offences with which they were charged were bailable; that under the circumstances they apprehended that they would not have a fair and impartial trial before the said Magistrate.

The Magistrate ordered the usual notices to be issued ordering the application to be forwarded to the Fourth Presidency Magistrate for his remarks.

DISHONESTLY RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY.

YESTERDAY, at the Mazagon Police Court, Mr. P. H. Dastur, Second Presidency Magistrate, disposed of the case in which Inspector Draper charged Chandubai, a Hindu woman, Parwatibai, also a woman, and Kikoo Mulji, husband of the latter, with dishonestly receiving four gold bangles, two pearl necklaces and a diamond pendant of the collective value of Rs. 20,300 knowing them to be stolen. Mr. N. B. Gazdar, Barrister-at-Law, defended the accused. It appeared from evidence that Laloo Mansing, a domestic servant, in the employ of one Ranchhordas Dharamsi, residing at Mandvi, disappeared on the 12th December, and subsequently gold bangles, pearl necklaces, etc., were found missing from a cupboard in the complainant's room. A report was made to the police, and Laloo was arrested at Vishnagar in Baroda territory. Laloo made a statement and took the police to Ahmedabad, where he pointed out the three accused. Gold bangles were recovered from the first accused, and the rest of the ornaments were recovered from the second and the third accused. All the accused were convicted. The first accused was sentenced to three months', and the second to six months' rigorous imprisonment. The third accused, who was an old offender, was ordered to undergo two years' rigorous imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs. 150, or, in default, to suffer four months' further imprisonment. Laloo was convicted of theft as a servant and was sentenced to suffer sixteen months' rigorous imprisonment.

BREACH OF TRUST.

AT the Mazagon Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. P. H. Dastur, Presidency Magistrate, Inspector Shaw charged Soondree, a Hindu woman, with breach of trust in respect of a gold ornament, valued at Rs. 50, belonging to one Mathura, also a woman. Mr. Crage, pleader, defended the accused. It appeared from evidence that about a year ago the complainant gave the accused one gold ornament to be used at a wedding. The accused undertook to return it in four or five days. She failed to do so and when the complainant asked for it she put her off from time to time. On Wednesday last the complainant made a report to the police, who arrested the accused and recovered the ornament from a Marwaree with whom it had been pledged by the accused. The accused pleaded guilty. As this was his first offence and as she had paid off the Marwari, she was sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 20. The ornament was ordered to be returned to the complainant.

ANÆMIA AND ITS VICTIMS.

A New Scientific Remedy.

Only those who have suffered from Anæmia can have any idea of the feeling of weakness, lassitude and inability to undergo exertion, whether mental or physical, which this condition induces.

As everyone knows, it is due to a deficiency of iron in the blood as well as to a large decrease in the number of the red corpuscles which contain this all-important element for the body's welfare.

It used to be the custom to rely entirely on various preparations of iron to cure this bloodless condition, which makes the sufferer thin, pale and waxy looking, short of breath, dizzy, and causes palpitation, faintness, etc., etc. Iron, however, is by no means the sovereign remedy it was once believed to be, for more iron can be given in a day than is contained in the whole of the blood without doing any good.

The preparation which acts like a charm in improving the quality of the blood is Sanatogen, as modern research has shown. This tonic food, which is the most revitalising preparation known to Science, stimulates the bloodmaking organs to their utmost. The result is that the red corpuscles are made in great numbers and the vital iron is rapidly restored to them. This has been strikingly shown in innumerable cases.

The "General Practitioner," May 20th, 1905, reports this case:—"A girl, aged 17, with 3,900,000 red blood corpuscles per cubic centimetre, after three weeks' use of Sanatogen, showed an increase of 300,000 red corpuscles per cubic centimetre."

Dr. Ferchmin, Private Physician to the Czar of Russia, writes:—"My daughter, who was very nervous, and anæmic, has been greatly benefited by the prolonged use of Sanatogen. Her appetite improved, her weight increased, and the colour of her skin became healthier."

Sanatogen may be obtained at all Chemists and Bazaars.

BOXING MATCH IN CALCUTTA.

Dixie Kid vs. Paddy Gill.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, JAN. 20.

The contemplated meeting of Dixie Kid and Paddy Gill in a 20-round contest under the Queensbury rules, has been finally arranged. Only the details are left undecided, pending the Police Commissioner's permission. One, "Genuine Sport," paid Rs. 750 into the hands of the stake-holder at 12 o'clock this morning and this was followed by a written promise of Rs. 100 from one of Paddy Gill's supporters to serve as forfeit in the event of this pugilist failing to put up a fight.

THE MATUNGA PASSAGE.

The Hon'ble Mr. W. L. Cameron, Secretary to the Bombay Government, received on Thursday, a Deputation of the Association of the Property Holders and residents of Matunga, Mahim, Vadala, Sion and Dadar, in reference to the proposed closure of the alleged public passage between the two Matunga Stations. The Deputation complained of the obstructions caused by ballast trains standing across the road and pedestrians having been compelled to get underneath the wagons to go to the other side.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cameron said that this was dangerous and assured the members of the Deputation that he would refer the matter to the Municipal Commissioner for prompt action. He further informed the Deputation that the Government of Bombay had written to the Collector not to be proceed with the acquisition of the passage, until the Railway Company proposes such accommodation works as may be approved of by the Government to replace the public right of way. He felt surprised at the remark of the Railway Attorney before the Collector that he had no instructions to propose any accommodation work. The Government had also written to the Railway Company that unless suitable accommodation works were provided, they would not allow the public right of way to be extinguished, and until then the Railway should refrain from obstructing the passage in any way whatsoever.

The members of the Deputation, on retiring, thanked him for the trouble he had taken to receive them.

BY THE WAY.

A FEATHERY AFFAIR.

Pretty little cageling,
In your prison's solitude
Still so sweetly warbling
To cheer your bosom's lassitude !

Of your frolics mirthful,
In the woods with friends about,
Carol you so joyful
As your wings fret to spread out ?

Memory's pictures sunny
Prompt you sing o'dear old haunts where
Sweet with freedom's honey,
Searching made your daily fare ?

Or doth Providence bid
All your thoughts turn music bright,
That their prickles thus hid,
Less keen be your prisoned plight ?

Ah, methinks, your song tells
Of your longings for your mate,
As your tiny heart swells
Still with sweet love's yearnings great.

And hence does that sad ring
In your notes my thoughts arrest,
Touching oft a sleeping
Chord in my accordant breast ?

Come my pretty birdie,
Here I ope your prison's gate
T'set you straight way free :
Fly, fly to your absent mate.

A BIG CROP OF "BLEWITS."

One result of the recent heavy rainfall and mild temperature has been the appearnce this Christmas of a great crop of "blewits" upon the "meads" of Essex. The blewit (Agaricus personatus) is considered by some people the most delicious of all edible fungi, and is also the latest, seldom becoming plentiful before November. It is readily distinguished from other mushrooms by the whitish gills and violet-stained stem, from which the name seems derived. Formerly blewits were sold at Covent Garden, and they are still gathered for market in East Anglia under the name of "blue legs."

BIG TROUT.

In the first number of the "Journal of the Salmon and Trout Association," which has just made its appearance, there is a note on big trout. A remarkable specimen was caught on the Test by Major Bartholomew. It weighed 81-2 lb. and took a silver sedge on a No. 3 hook. Such a big trout has very seldom been caught on even a Mayfly, and for other dry-fly fishing it is probably entitled to rank second to the monster of 12 3-4 lb., which was caught with a No. 1 hare'sear on the Dorchester Frome, by the Rev. J. E. V. Filleul in 1907.

MORE SPECIMENS.

Among the biggest trout captured within recent history pride of place belongs to the monster of Loch Steunes, which weighed 29lb., and was caught on a hand-line in 1889. It was one of those big brown trout which have taken to salt or partially salt water ("slob" or estuarine trout), and the fine cast of it made by Mr. Malloch, and now in the Fly Fishers' Club, show that salt water agreed with it. Another big trout was caught on Louch Eenel in 1894. This weighed 26lb. and took a spoon bait.

FROM OTHER WATERS.

The Irish lakes have yielded several fish of 15lb. or more in recent years. A trout of 21lb. was caught on Loch Ranoch in 1904, by a young lady and in the same year a youthful angler of ten got one on the Test at Broadlands which weighed 16lb. The largest trout caught in southern streams of late, however, was the 18-pounder from the New River, which fell a victim to a lobworm in 1908. The record Thames trout was caught in 1880, and weighed 16lb. 15oz.

MRS. EDDY'S SUCCESSOR.

The vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Eddy has not yet been filled, but already a successor has been mentioned. It seems probable that Mrs. Augusta Stetson, one of the most prominent of New York Christian Scientists, will be put forward by a large section of followers. This lady's connexion with Christian Science dates from 1884, and she was responsible for the raising of a sum of nearly a million and a quarter dollars for the building of the First Church of Christ Scientist in New York, which was dedicated in 1903.

"SAY WHEN" MADE ILLEGAL.

The Municipality of Tacoma have been considering if an effective means could not be devised of curbing the drinking practices of the community. And they have decided that any citizen who, in future, invites a friend to have a drink will be guilty of a misdemeanour. The tipplers are naturally up in arms against the new law, but the Mayor has calmly and firmly informed them that every man who in future "says when" will be haled before the magistrates and punished, and that he will, if necessary, station an officer in every liquor saloon to see that the law is enforced.

THE GATES FOR THE PANAMA CANAL.

Samson, one might believe, would have found it impossible to perform the task, if asked to carry the gates which are being constructed at Pittsburg for the Panama Canal. The "Liberte" gives some particulars. There are to be over ninety of these gates we are told. They will be as high as a house of six stories, over twenty yards in width, more than two and a half yards in thickness, and more steel has been necessary for their construction than was used on the Eiffel Tower.

THE AMBIDEXTEROUS MIND.

The advantages-possessed by the ambidexterous over the merely dexterous manin music, surgery, and sport have often been brought before our notice. but we never suspected that his superiority in these or in other spheres was anything more than manual. From Berlin, however, comes the assurance that to be ambidexterous is also to be better balanced mentally: for, whereas right-handed people have the organ of speech on one side of the brain, and vice versa, "people who are ambidexterous have two language centres, one in each lobe (of the brain)." This claim may or may not be based on a physiological fact. But before we endow it with any educational or scientific value, we should like to know how far its proposed application to German national schools is promoted by genuine scientists, and how far that proposal is only a sign that the "Bilingualists" are again at work. If the latter supposition is correct, it is to be feared that cultivators of ambidexterity as an intellectual asset may have to look for their fruition to other countries than Germany, which has too often been a dumping-ground for unclaimed scientific causes in the past.

WHY HE WAS A TORY.

Other predisposing causes besides heredity may lead to attachment to a political party at an early age. Sir George McCrae, Vice-President of the Scottish Local Government Board, as members of the House of Commons are aware, can tell a good story, and at a dinner in Edinburgh the other evening he related one for the truth of which he vouched. A medical inspector, going round a school at election time, found many of the children wearing party favours. "What are you ?" he asked one, and was promptly told "A Liberal." "And why are you a Liberal ?" he inquired. Because my father's a Liberal." Another boy with a different favour was asked. "What are you?" "A Tory," was the answer. "And why are you a Tory?" pursued the inspector. "Because my mother cleans out the Conservative Club," quickly responded the hopeful politician.

BELGIUM AND SWITZERLAND.

The dangers of absinthe were early known and denounced, but it is only in recent years that thought has been given to prohibiting this liquor. To Belgium belongs the honour of taking the lead. In 1905 its Lower House voted the prohibition, which, one year later, was ratified by the Upper Chamber. As absinthe was drunk in only a few great cities, the prohibition in Belgium has rather the character of a preventive measure. The temperance people of Switzerland urge the complete prohibition of the manufacture, importation, and sale of absinthe throughout the Swiss Republic. Using their right of Constitutional initiative, by means of a petition signed by 168 000 electors, they demanded a vote on the question, and in spite of the opposition of the Government, backed by the whole liquor party, the prohibition was voted on July 5 1908, by a large majority, and came in force on October 7, 1910.

HOLLAND AND FRANCE.

In Holland, where absinthe drinking has never prevailed to any considerable extent, prohibition was voted in 1910 as a preventive measure. There remains a great consumer of absinthe in Europe—France. Great but, till now, useless efforts were made to obtain prohibition by Parliamentary enactment. Prohibitive measures, backed by Deputies and Senators of all parties, were submitted, but never discussed. A petition with 300,000 names was sent to the Chamber of Deputies, who, threatened by the clamours of the innkeepers, did not dare to interfere. However, with a new Parliament, the situation, Dr. Herod says, is more promising.

A Medical Officer

Debility, Nervous Exhaustion—

Certainly the absolute confidence of eminent doctors is evidence enough of the exceptional benefits imparted by Phosferine. Even doctors cannot do more to prove their confidence than by using Phosferine to remedy their own disorders. Could any proof be more definite, more convincing than the testimony of John Dodd, D.S.M., Medical Officer in the late South African War, who says: "After being shot through both lungs I was dangerously reduced, and I attribute it solely to Phosferine that I regained my usual health. I have proved the value of Phosferine in brain, nerve, and muscular exhaustion." This brilliant medical officer found Phosferine particularly serviceable for insufficiency of nerve force, and declares nothing was so suitable in combating fevers, chills, &c.

Not possible now

John Dodd, D.S.M. (late of the Medical Staff, 5th Imperial Yeomanry, 1st Brigade, South Africa), Ladysmith House, Witton-le-Wear, writes:—"I have had considerable experience in the use of your invaluable remedy Phosferine, and it has proved particularly serviceable where there exists insufficiency of nerve force. This condition, often due to primary weakness, lays the system open to influenza, colds, neuralgia, rheumatism, indigestion, fevers, and in remedying this predisposition I have found nothing so suitable as your preparation. Phosferine invariably goes to the root of the mischief direct. The certainty of its action is moreover an estimable feature. In debility and kindred ailments, caused by a reduced system, it has unprecedented power, and in my own case I can bear evidence to its exceptional value, and am indeed greatly indebted to its wonderful restorative properties. During the late war in South Africa, I was shot through both lungs and pericardium and that reduced me most dangerously; after taking Phosferine for about two months it brought me back to my usual health. I attribute this solely to the use of Phosferine. I have advised Phosferine in several cases, and proved its value in brain, nerve, and muscular exhaustion."—March 11, 1910.

THE LADIES' CORNER.

THE JEWELLERS' ART IN PARIS.

Beautiful jewels have been from time immemorial fair woman's most fasinating ornament. The jewellers' art is one which has been practised in all ages, beginning with the fashioning of simple natural objects into articles of personal adornment right down to our present period which is the richest and the most refined. It is a facinating study—that of comparing each epoch's evolution and its influence on the jewels of the people. Gems and jewels being more especially woman's ornaments—that is, in civilised countries—it is only natural that man should have put into the fashioning thereof all that is artistic and noble and fine. Does not man always delight the object of his affections with the most beautiful objects he can lay his hands upon ?

IMPROVEMENT IN DESIGN.

It has ofttimes been said that the modern fine arts have not advanced one step since the days of the Greeks and Romans. This cannot be said of jewellery which shows improvement in design and execution as each year passes until one wonders how it is possible to improve yet again—and still it is done. Paris, as she has done in so many things, has led the way in the manufacture of beautiful jewellery. London jewellers will own frankly that for delicacy of design and execution the French are far ahead of them. A stroll down the Rue de la Paix and its immediate neighbourhood affords a feast for the eyes especially at this season of the year when the jewellers' shop windows are decked out in all that is choicest and richest. Here one sees handbags of gold threaded with patterns in diamonds and diamond-studded mounts, and the less expensive, but not less beautiful ones of two or even three different coloured golds so cunningly woven together that they appear almost a fabric. The craze for "ancien" jewellery has abated somewhat of late and given place to that peculiar daintiness of design and delicacy of workmanship which is the particular stamp of the present day, and so, therefore, everywhere the eye is charmed with the sight of beautifully shaped platinum pendants hung upon the thinnest of thin chains, and brooches of this same precious metal studded with diamonds until the whole gleams with one blaze of light as if the wearer had caught a ray of sunlight and pinned it to her breast.

NOVELTIES IN EARRINGS.

One of the novelties of the season are the earrings which have returned to us again. Nothing is more fascinating than two pearl-drops depending from a pretty knot comprised of diamonds daintily tapping a fair damask cheek, and it is no wonder that this pretty fashion of wearing earrings was not allowed to lie dormant for long. The influence of "Chantecler" is seen in the number of jewels made to represent animals, and these are often of the costliest description. Thus in the Rue de la Paix shops there may be seen corsage ornaments, representing tigers's heads, made of diamonds mounted upon platinum, the precious stones being arranged in irregular stripes to imitate those of the animal, while two gleaming emeralds stand for its eyes. In the same style are butterflies, bees, eagles, and other birds and insects. Quaint little purses, made of gold mesh, represent swans, with heads and feet of massive gold, while little powder boxes, got up in the same way, are in the likeness of a—goose !

FLORILINE!—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in parts of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33 Farringdon Road London, England.

GOLFING NOTES.

GOLF IN THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

THAT a green Yule makes a fat "kirkyard," may once have been a true saying, but since golf, with its health-giving qualities, became popular, the new version of the proverb is, "A green Yule makes a full golf course." Golfers have again been most kindly treated by the Clerk of the Weather this Christmas, writes a Home correspondent, and the golfing conditions during the holidays have been almost ideal. At all the seaside golfing resorts there has been bright sunshine, day after day, with just that exhilarating nip of frost in the air which makes golf in winter the most bracing and enjoyable of all sports. The links everywhere have been thronged with players, and only a few inland courses showed any traces of the recent heavy rains.

VENUES OF THE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Already the leading fixtures are being arranged for. The Amateur Championship falls to be played in the end of May, at Prestwick, where it has not been held since 1905, when Mr. A. G. Barry gained his sensational victory, defeating Mr. Maxwell in the final at the 37th hole. The Open event takes place at Sandwich in June, and it will be interesting to see if Jack White's record score of 296, made when the Championship was last played there is 1906, is lowered. Several alterations have been made on the course since last Championship, so that it is now somewhat longer, but the added length will not make any difference to the scores of the leading professionals. It will all depend on the condition of the putting greens. In Jack White's year they were in wonderful order, and the low scores returned were almost entirely the result of the easy putting. The only Continental tournament that has so far been arranged is to take place on the links of the Rome Golf Club in April, when Braid, Taylor, Vardon, and Willie Park have been engaged to play exhibition stroke and match games. The course at Rome is highly praised by Park and Taylor, who have laid it out. It lies just outside the city.

AMATEURS V. PROFESSIONALS.

At the time of the OpenChampionship at Sandwich we are to have a revival of the Amateur v. Professional match which was played there in the Jubilee year, and in which the late F.G. Tait played so finely. The amateurs were, of course, beaten on that occasion, and it may be doubted if the gap that separate the first-class amateur from the first-class professional has grown any smaller in the interval. Certainly there is now no amateur player so good a match player as Tait then was, and the leading professionals cannot be said to have deteriorated in the interval. In any case, it will be an interesting match, and will afford statistical evidence on the relative strength of first-class amateur and professional golf, a subject that is often debated. The question, however, will receive a partial solution at a much earlier date, as a match is to be played at Stoke Poges on January 20, between a team of the Oxford and Cambridge Golfing Society, and a team of the leading professionals in the London district. Play is to be by foursomes, and if, as is suggested, the Amature side are to receive two or three strokes each, some very close play should result, especially as the Oxford and Cambridge players have much more experience of foursome play than the professionals.

AMERICA AND THE RULES OF GOLF.

As was generally anticipated, the barring of the Schenectady putter has led to trouble with America. The Schenectady has achieved great popularity in the States, and as soon as the United States Golf Association learned that St. Andrews had declared the club to be illegal on the ground that it was a club of the mallet-headed type, intimation was sent to the Rules of Golf Committee that the Association would not be able to accept the prohibition. This created something of a flutter in the St. Andrews dovecots, since it foreshadowed a breach in the hitherto unbroken loyalty of America to the St. Andrews rules, and might easily lead to further trouble. The Rules Committee, in order to avert this calamity, has devised a way out which has at least the merit of ingenuity. The United States Association has always nominally reserved to itself the right to "interprent" the St. Andrews rules, and so the Rules Committee has not specifically included the Schenectady putter in its prohibitory clause on the form and make of golf cluds. This clause merely declares that clubs of the mallet-headed type are illegal, and the Schemectady is only prohibited by the provisions of a "Note," in which the Rules Committee states what details of construction will guide it in interpreting the general clause.

MALLET-HEADED CLUBS.

The Rules Committee had accordingly suggested to the United States Association that it may accept the general clause prohibiting mallet-headed clubs and "interpret" it so as to exclude the Schenectady. In other words, the U.S. Association is practically invited to ignore, if it pleases, the interpretation which the Rules Committee places on its own rule! A meeting is to be held at Chicago, on January 14, at which the U. S. Association will decide what course it is to pursue in regard to the matter; but it will seem to many that the solution suggested by the Ruling Body is no solution at all. If Unions and Association are thus to reserve to themselves the right of "interpreting" the rules of golf in accordance with their own ideas there will very soon be an end to all uniformity of golfing law and practice, and to the authority of St. Andrews. As a matter of fact, the U.S. Association, in its so-called "interpretations," has never altered the wording or import of any of the rules of golf, and has expressly stated that it does not do so. It is to be hoped, therefore, that it will make no exception in this case, and although it may involve a considerable sacrifice, that it will be able to fall in with the St. Andrews interpretation. In no other way that we can see can the situation be saved.

PRICE OF THE GOLF BALL.

If a man be in the habit, writes H. H. Hilton in the "Westminster Gazette," of paying a sum of 2s. for a golf ball and be suddenly requested to increase the buying price to 2s. 6d. he usually wishes to know the why and wherefore. A few months ago a notice was set out by various leading manufacturers that owing to the enormous increase in the price of rubber they must make an increase of 6d. on the price of the better kinds of ball they turn out. The plea appeared a just and valid one, for the raw material had more than doubled in price in the course of a few months; and the golfing public did not grumble much. There was the usual amount of chatter about the cost of the game becoming greater than ever, and there can be but little doubt that a certain percentage of the more economically-minded players did without the dearer ball for a time and rested content with one or other of the makes of ball which were still retailed at 2s. But the greater percentage of golfers very soon found themselves paying the new price of 2s. 6d. without a murmer. Had the price of rubber remained at its exalted height, they would still have continued to pay the 2s. 6d. and by degrees thought little about it.

COST OF RUBBER.

But the price of rubber did not long remain at 12s. a pound, the boom was over and down came the price of rubber, until now it is at its old price of about 6s. a pound, and the consumer of golf balls wishes to know why, if the price of golf balls was increased to 2s 6d. really because rubber had doubled in price, it has not now been reduced to the old standard price? The manufacturer, however, seem to be in in no unseemly haste to gratify this justifiable curiosity. He just sits on the fence and says nuffin no doubt wishing that the said consumer would not be quite so presistent. To many players this increase of 6d. in the price of golf balls may not mean very very much, but it is the lack of sense of justice on the part of the manufacturer, and seeming extortion, that rouses the ire of golfers. Of course the maker may argue that, as he can obtain 2s. 6d. for the golf balls he makes he must be shown good reason why he should be content to retail his wares at 2s.

VETARZO BRAIN AND NERVE FOOD.

This remarkable compound, the result of the latest developments and achievements of modern chemistry, pharmacology, and therapeutics, is without equal in all cases of defective nerve power, whether induced by worry, over-work, unhealthy climate, dissipation, excess, youthful imprudence, or other influences incidental to the wear and tear and haste or overstrain of modern life. Sleeplessness, tremblings, palpitation, nervous dyspepsia, low spirits, mental and bodily prostration, muscular and local weakness, general and nervous debility, faulty nutrition, premature decay or deficiency of the vital forces, impaired vitality, harassing dreams, night disturbances, sudden startings, dimness of sight, defective hearing, loss of memory, inability to perform the various duties of life, or to enjoy its pleasures, restlessness that can settle to nothing, irritability of temper, female complaints, hysteria, painful periods, backache, bearing down sensations, nervous headache, wasting disease, night sweats, and all other phases of brain and nerve exhaustion, are successfully combated by this highly scientific preparation. Bracing up the system generally, it gives tone to the exhausted nerves, arrests all weakening wasting discharges, involuntary losses, &c.; restores the failing energies, and imparts new life and vigour to what had so recently seemed worn out, "used up," and valueless.

VETARZO BLOOD MEDICINE.

Never before was there anything like it, nor can its marvellous properties ever be equalled in all cases of poorness, impurity, or other imperfection of the blood from whatever cause arising. No sooner is it imbibed into the system than it permeates and penetrates to the minutest capillaries, overcoming and expelling the virus of disease, wheresoever and in whatsoever form met with; removing all blotches, pimples, scurf, scurvy, scrofulous and glandular swellings, discolorations, roughness and unsightly patches, &c. Its effects are almost magical in the treatment of gout, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, pains and swellings of the joints, discharges, secondary symptoms, eczema, lepra, psoriasis, bad legs, bad breasts, abscesses, ulcers, sores, goitre or Derbyshire neck, it improves the general health, and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma, and hacking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption.

CAUTION.—Ask for "VETARZO Brain and Nerve Food," or "VETARZO Blood medicine," whichever is required, and see that you get them, as unprincipled vendors often try to palm off inferior preparations (usually their own manufacture), for the sake of extra profit. Price in England, 2/9. Every genuine bottle of these medicines bears the British Government Stamp with the words "VETARZO REMEDIES" impressed thereon, in white letters on a red ground, by direction of His Majesty's Hon. Commissioners. Registered Trade Mark "VETARZO." Legal proceedings will be taken against persons pirating.

COMMON SENSE IN A NUTSHELL.—A NEW medical work on the causes and most scientific and effectual means of self-cure ever discovered for nervous exhaustion, depression of spirits, want of zest and energy, &c., with practical observations on marriage and full directions for removing certain disqualifications that destroy the happiness of wedded life. It also treats on urinary derangements, secondary symptoms, stricture, &c., and no sufferer should fail to procure a copy. Post free in plain envelope on receipt of Postal Order Sixpence, from THE VETARZO REMEDIES Co., Gospel Oak, London, or of Agents for above medicines. Price 10 annas Post Free

KNIGHT OF THE ORDER OF LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM
KNIGHT OF THE LEGION OF HONOUR
LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL

THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBLE.
THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.

Incontestably proved by Forty Years' Medical Experience to be
The only Cod Liver Oil which produces the full curative effects in CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST, THROAT AFFECTIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE SKIN, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, RICKETS, AND ALL SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS:

SIR G. DUNCAN GIBB, Bart., M.D.,
Physician to the Westminster Hospital.

"The value of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL as a therapeutic agent in a number of diseases, chiefly of an exhaustive character, has been admitted by the world of medicine; but, in addition, I have found it a remedy of great power in the treatment of many Affections of the Throat and Larynx, especially in Consumption of the latter, where it will sustain life when everything else fails."

DR. SINCLAIR COGHILL,
Physician to the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Ventnor.

"I have convinced myself that in Tubercular and the various forms of Strumous Disease, Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL possesses greater therapeutic efficacy than any other Cod Liver Oil with which I am acquainted. It was especially noted in a large number of cases in which the patients protested they had never been able to retain or digest other Cod Liver Oil, that DR. DE JONGH'S OIL was not only tolerated, but taken readily, and with marked benefit."

JOSEPH J. POPE Esq., M.R.C.S.,
Late Staff Surgeon, Army, Professor of Hygiene, Birkbeck Institution, London.

"I found during my Indian experience that the worth and character of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL remained unchanged by tropical heat or foreign climate, and it was, from its uniformity of character, particularly adapted for long-continued administration. The value of 'hydro-carbons' in all debilitated states of the system is now becoming thoroughly recognized; and it is, without doubt, from the animal oils, and fats, rather than from their vegetable substitutes, that we may hope to derive the surest benefit. The Oil of DR. DE JONGH places in everyone's reach a reliable and valuable remedy, one that cannot be too widely recognized."

DR. R. C. CROFT,
Author of "Handbook for the Nursery."

"DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is almost a specific in many of the Diseases peculiar to Infancy and Childhood, and I have seen marked benefit produced by its use. Patients prefer it to the Pale Oils, and are able to retain it more comfortably."

Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is Supplied ONLY in IMPERIAL Half-Pints, Pints and Quarts, sealed with BETTS' Patent Capsule impressed on the top with DR. DE JONGH'S Stamp, and on the side with his Signature, and the Signature of ANSAR, HARFORD & Co.; and bearing under the wrapper a Label with the same Stamp and Signatures. WITHOUT THESE MARKS NONE CAN POSSIBLY BE GENUINE.
